

Medien

IFK_Audio

Provenance and Personal Identity: Problems of Brain Tissues from the Era of National Socialism

Paul Weindling

Paul Weindling currently researches life histories of victims of National Socialist medical research and their post-mortem histories in terms of body parts, the forced migration of physicians and others in health care, and topics related to Nazi medical education, research and practice. He is City of Vienna/IFK_Fellow in summer term 2018.